

Mas de l'Oulivié

Les Baux-de-Provence

PARC NATUREL RÉGIONAL
DES ALPILLES

Olive trees, cypresses, lavender, huge gray stone Oliviers, cyprès, lavandes, with chimerical shapes, it is here, in the heart of the Alpilles, that the Mas de l'Oulivié was born, more than twenty years ago ...

The house itself, built with a great respect of the Provencal architecture, trimmed with white stone from Les Baux de Provence, roofed with reclaimed terracotta tiles and its shutters of the almond green of the olive trees, is a genuine haven of peace and harmony.

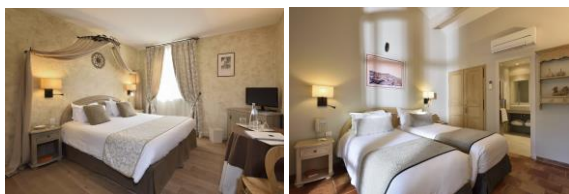

From the entrance to the hotel, between the olive branches, a row of shrubs mixed with rosemary, sage and other aromatic and coloured plants brings you to the reception.

The door then opens onto a large lounge of wooden beams, painted walls and handmade terracotta tiles which contrast with the large rustic fire-place made from the chalky white stone of Les Baux. Here, there and everywhere, you will find a relaxing decoration and an extreme concern to pay attention to every detail.

Set inside the olive grove that surrounds the Mas, you will find a stunning landscaped swimming-pool that will take you by surprise with large rocks marvellously integrated in the Alpilles and a beach reaching into the water.

Facing either the Alpilles or the magnificent landscaped garden, our 27 rooms divided into Caractere, Privilege, Prestige or Suites categories have their own identity, their own color : delicious contrasts between orange, yellow, red and subtle balance between gray, blue and green and a touch of romance with old roses and purple.

An « à la carte » restaurant...

Breakfasts and lunches are served on the terrace next to the swimming pool.

With his menu he hopes to encourage you to discover the specialities of the natural regional Parc of the Alpilles and the olive oil of Vallée des Baux de Provence which comes from part of our harvest.
